2021 Citi Journalistic Excellence Award Hong Kong Results

Hong Kong – Citi Hong Kong announced today the results of the 2021 Citi Journalistic Excellence Award (CJEA). In its 12th year in Hong Kong, CJEA encourages and recognizes excellence in business and financial journalism around the world. The Award is administered by the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism in New York.

2021 Winners - Hong Kong

- Yan Lee, Hong Kong Economic Journal Monthly (Winner)
- Wong Oi Kam, Hong Kong Economic Journal Monthly (First runner-up)
- Ivan Cheng, Hong Kong Economic Journal Monthly (Second runner-up)

Broadcast Story of the Year

Angel Ng, CEO for Citi Hong Kong and Macau, said, “Congratulations to the award winners and news practitioners everywhere for their perseverance and continuous contribution to our society. Through the years, we have seen people’s reading habits change, how they prefer to access news has also changed and as a result, media organizations are having to adapt. But what hasn’t changed is the commitment of the news industry to bring us timely, accurate and objective reporting. Through the dedication of journalists, we have been able to witness every milestone that signifies the continuous progress of the banking and financial industry.”

The 2021 Hong Kong winner will join CJEA winners around the world at a 10-day virtual seminar run by the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism this June.
